Delve into the microbiome with Life-Space

This year Life-Space is offering the chance to experience the microbiome in a whole new way – through the wonder of virtual reality. Explore what the microbiome has to offer before moving through the female urogenital tract to uncover the impact of certain microflora.

Your questions answered by our experienced Field Science Liaisons and product specialists. Uncover our core range as well as our specialised products targeted to women's health. Find out more about exciting new products formulated with specific probiotic strains. We'll have samples for you to try yourself!

Don't miss out on hearing Professor Franco Vicariotto, M.D.

Professor Vicariotto is a specialist consultant at Humanitas-S. PIO X hospital of Milan and the Lower Genital Tract Disease Unit at the V. Buzzi Hospital, University of Milan. He graduated in Medicine and Surgery from the University of Milan and specialises in Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Professor Vicariotto founded the Italian Society of Supplements in Obstetricians and Gynecology and the International Society of Dietary Supplements and Phytotherapy. He also sits on the board of the Italian Society of Menopause and is a clinical advisor for IQVIA Health.

He has a major interest in the research and clinical application of oral and vaginal probiotics in obstetrics and gynecology. Don't miss his presentation where he will cover the use of probiotics in treating women's health conditions such as thrush and bacterial vaginosis.

Professor Franco Vicariotto will be presenting "Probiotics in obstetrics and gynecology" during the Clinical Bites session on Friday at 10:30 am.
